

This year's edition will be dedicated to initiatives dealing with new ways of integrating diversity in organizations.

The 'Stone Soup Awards' aims at recognizing a research project that has already been implemented or approved, having to do with development in relation to innovation strategies and actions that could help integrating diversity in all sorts of organizations locally, nationally or internationally.

Proposals must include the trends to integrate diversity and must go together with statistics, best practices and public policies, as well as their impact assessment.

Studies shall be submitted individually and may be written in Spanish, English, French or Portuguese. The deadline for submissions is 5th October.

You can read the rules of the award and fill in the form to submit the proposals. You will get more information writing an email to stone-soup@stone-soup.net.
